Dear Bob,

I am delighted to hear you are coming to town! Unfortunately, the one night you are going to be here we have a formal dinner engagement at an embassy. That's ironic; we seldom accept more than one invitation on week nights and it just happens to be the 27th. I am free for lunch at the office on the 28th. Hope you will make that. } 1230

Looking forward to seeing you then.

Yours,

STANSFIELD TURNER

Admiral Stansfield Turner
Director of Central Intelligence

My dear Stan,

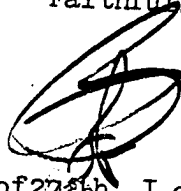

Never daunted, I make another effort to round you and Pat up for very quiet-early-evening-and-to-bed dinner and shall hope for better luck this time because it's been way too long since you and I faced a flat in the Pentagon parking lot the last time we three dined together!

I'll be in Washington very briefly the evening of May 27th, arriving from San Francisco at Dulles about 5 P.M. I'll remain in the Bedlam on the Potomac only the 28th, going up to New York that evening. I hope so much you and Pat can be my guests for dinner in Washington, any place of your choosing... the evening of Tuesday, May 27th.

I'll be in the capital to report to the Commandant of the Marine Corps on my visit to El Toro the previous week, in the capacity I've held for now my fourth Commandant--a pro bono consultant on racial tensions and equal opportunity. I visit Okinawa and Iwakuni every 18 months (going again this Fall), and in between times do a couple of states-side bases a year. It's been stimulating but useful work.

Please let me know as soon as possible, so that I may keep my schedule clear. I hope so much we may break the jinx this time and get together.

Faithfully,

P.S. If you and Pat are tied up the evening of 27th, I could meet you anyplace you wish for lunch the 28th.
